

HDTV Productions Inc. – CORPORATE PROFILE

---

HDTV Productions Inc. is an award-winning production company specializing in high definition television and corporate video production. Established in 1987 as Douglas Munro Cinematography Inc. (DMCI), it is a Canadian company with head office located in Calgary, Alberta, Canada, another Canadian location in Fort McMurray, Alberta and a U.S. office in Las Vegas, Nevada. The company and its principles, Douglas Munro and Margot McMaster, have garnered an international reputation for excellence and are both recipients of Emmy Awards from the National Television Academy of Arts and Sciences.

Priding itself on working with as well as for its clients, HDTV offers a variety of services that can be tailored to the customer's individual requirements. Its professional cinematography and editing solutions can be customized for broadcast, presentation, or Internet delivery.

In recent years, HDTV has developed strategies to best serve the new media and streaming video market. Shooting and editing with specifications for the Internet in mind, the company strives to maintain its exceptional production values while working within your bandwidth.

The company and its players are instrumental in the execution of creative and refreshing approaches for their clients. Through the implementation of new technologies and in combination with solid story-telling experience, HDTV is committed to distinctive and innovative video production.